LASELL COLLEGE

Dear Lasell Alumni and Friends:

This issue of Leaves—in a new, reader-friendly magazine format—includes, for the first time, the College’s annual Report On The Year. We think a review of the remarkable progress made over the past fiscal year is worth sharing with all of you, our most loyal supporters, just as a look at what’s happening on campus today and in the future is inspiring.

All of the constituents of the College—faculty, staff, parents, students, alumni, Trustees, Overseers, friends and donors—have contributed to the momentum that continues to propel Lasell to new heights, as evidenced by our being cited for the second consecutive year by The Chronicle of Higher Education as one of the “Great Colleges to Work For,” and by being named one of the top 10 “Great Colleges for a Great Price” in the North region by US News and World Report.

The advances we are making in executing the Strategic Plan put in place three years ago are significant: We can point to another year of record enrollments, with 1,600 full-time undergraduates, an 11% increase this year in the size of the full-time faculty (see pages 12-13), new undergraduate programs in Fashion Communication and Applied Mathematics, three graduate degree programs that did not exist last year at this time (see page 16), an up tick in the percentage of male undergraduates to nearly 35%, an increase in minorities in the student body to nearly 18% and the rising before our eyes of the Donahue Center for Creative and Applied Arts (see pages 4-5).

In addition, some 40 students will participate in international service learning programs this year, including a new trip to the Amazonian jungles of Brazil; another 20 are slated for academically oriented trips to France or China, and as many as 80 will take a semester to study abroad.

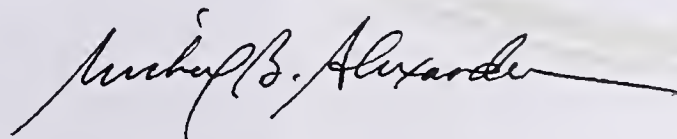

Also in these pages, you will read about some of the remarkable individuals whose passion for education reinforces the College’s mission. Professors such as sociologist Tessa Le Roux (page 15), whose global sensibilities enrich and expand the classroom experience for her students; behind-the-scenes staffers who keep the robust Lasell machine humming, such as information technologist Jane Wan (page 16); and welcome additions to our team of administrative professionals, such as the Rev. Dr. Thomas Sullivan, director of the Center for Spiritual Life (page 19).

Your philanthropy, your energy and your support are having a significant impact on everyone who is part of the Lasell family. We thank you for what you have done, for what you are doing and for what you will do in the future. It couldn’t happen without you.

Sincerely,

Eric M. Turner

THE ARTS IN BLOOM

Take one successful visual artist with experience building college art programs, add a young, cutting-edge art professor, mix with a talented painter and a graphic design whiz—both with loads of teaching experience at Lasell—and you get the College's new Art and Graphic Design Department.

As the idea of expanding the arts at Lasell has crystalized in recent years, several new faces have joined the faculty to help bring that plan to fruition.

This fall, Serdar Arat came on board as the Diane Heath Beever '49 Professor of Art and Kenneth Calhoun arrived as the chair of the newly formed Art and Graphic Design Department. They, along with Professors Margo Lemieux and Stephen Fisher, promise to have a marked impact on visual and graphic arts study.

"Big changes are underway related to arts education at Lasell. Tops on the list is a new arts major," Calhoun tells Leaves (see page 12).

Calhoun adds that one possibility, which has been under development by Lemieux, would train students for the business side of gallery management.

This is an exciting prospect for Arat (see page 12) who managed and developed the art gallery at Concordia College in New York and regularly shows his work in galleries in Manhattan and in Istanbul and Ankara, Turkey.

"For all visual arts on campus, the gallery, in my mind, is the anchor. It is the key place, and also brings in the local community interest," says Arat, who hopes to lead a future course called Art, Gallery and Museum.

The Fantastic Four: (L to R) Serdar Arat, Kenneth Calhoun, Stephen Fisher and Margo Lemieux.

Arat says the course could have students spending time inside museums and galleries to experience the business side of gallery management.

In the future, Calhoun also would like to offer a studio art major and hopes he and Fisher can look into new graphics courses in 3D animation, games, motion graphics and special effects.

"The classroom work needs to be tightly fitted and responsive to what is happening in the real world," says Calhoun.

With an entire department devoted to the visual arts, suddenly new energy and ideas about arts courses and graphic design are sprouting.

This new department, alongside the current construction of the Donahue Center for Creative and Applied Arts, adds a heaping dose of momentum to the rebuilding of the arts on the Lasell campus.

Expanding the

Breaking New Ground, Expanding the Arts

Members of the Lasell community gathered in June for the ceremonial groundbreaking for the Donahue Center for Creative and Applied Arts, which will house state-of-the-art classrooms, faculty offices and will become the permanent home for the Lasell Fashion Collection. The building is named for Lasell alumna Nancy Lawson Donahue '49, trustee emerita, who, along with her husband Richard, gave the lead gift for the creation of the new building. The new art center is part of Lasell's Bridge to the Future fundraising initiative.

In attendance at the groundbreaking were President Michael B. Alexander and his wife, Mary Barbara Alexander, members of the Donahue family, members of the Board of Trustees, local dignitaries including State Representative Kay Khan, Yolanda Cellucci, honorary co-chair of the College's Bridge to the Future fundraising initiative, members of Lasell's administrative team, Lasell staff and representatives from the architectural, contracting and finance firms for the building.

Donahue, who is co-chair for the fundraising initiative, and her family have been major supporters of the College over the years, providing funding for the Donahue Institute for Values and Public Life and the Donahue Bookstore.

The Donahue Center for Creative and Applied Arts is scheduled for completion in the summer of 2011.

Solo Show: Serdar Arat in NYC.

Brushstrokes

The arrival of Serdar Arat, Diane Heath Beever '49 Professor of Art, at Lasell this fall has already raised the profile of the visual arts on and off campus.

Arat, born in Turkey, has lived and studied in the US since graduate school. He had a solo show of his work at Kouros Gallery in Manhattan in October with another exhibition slated later this year at Galeri Nev in Ankara, Turkey. Keep your eyes open in Auburndale, however; Arat hopes to also have his work on the walls of Lasell's Wedeman Gallery soon.

Leaves recently caught up with the artist who shares some thoughts below:

On his NYC exhibition: "This is my fourth solo show in New York. Shadow of the Island is the title of a specific painting but also the title of the series of a dozen paintings. Originally it goes back to a series called Island of the Dead by Swiss artist Arnold Böcklin (1827-1901). I previously did an homage to that body of work called Island of the Dead and now, as an extension of that, I created Shadow of the Island. Most of my work is metaphorical. Part of the sky and water will come together and be joined, but they look jolted out of place and shifted. They are in balance somehow, but it is a little uneasy."

On art in general: "Susan Sontag once said, 'The more personal it is, the more universal it becomes.' That resonated with me. I don't make art for social purpose; I go deeper and deeper into my own experience. If there is truth in that experience, then anyone can appreciate it."

On his art: "The most distinct characteristic is shaped canvases. It looks abstract—but I think all art is based on nature. Really, it is the only experience we have. My work does evoke a natural setting but it is distilled, abstracted to emphasize different moods and states of mind. I try to edit out what isn't necessary and emphasize the emotional."

ON BROADWAY

From the Control Room to the Cape

During childhood summers, Mary Ann Donahue '53 and her family would drive through Auburndale from their Arlington, MA home en route to Cape Cod. "The Lasell campus looked so special," she recalls. "I could only fantasize that someday I might go there myself."

Slow dissolve to two "wonderful" years as a Lasell undergraduate, where Donahue sang at Symphony Hall with the Orphean Club and, in general, had "a very happy, productive time." Her Lasell education landed her a job as a medical secretary, but her extracurricular energy was spent pursuing a passion for the performing arts. Next stop, Boston University for a BFA cum laude in Theatre Arts and an MFA in Theatre Education. "The rest," she tells Leaves, "is history."

That history includes a very full, Manhattan-based life as a Broadway and TV producer/writer, a place of prominence in the PBS universe and a continuing career as a consultant and producer/writer for promotional productions and between-program continuity efforts for WNET/Thirteen in New York, KCET in Los Angeles and other public broadcasting outlets.

(If you've enjoyed The New Affluence with Jonathan Pond on TV this past year, you've seen Donahue's handiwork; and stay tuned for Vine Talk, an upcoming PBS celebrity wine-tasting series, for which she is coordinating producer.)

Donahue has written scripts for All My Children on ABC, was a production assistant to Allen Funt on Candid Camera, helped launch Charlie Rose nationally on PBS, spent five years working in Spain on American films (including Patton and If It's Tuesday, This Must Be Belgium) and put time in behind the scenes on Broadway musicals with Lucille Ball (Wildcat), George Goebel (Let It Ride) and Patty Duke (Isle of Children).

An inveterate traveler, Donahue divides her time these days primarily between Manhattan's East Side and the Wareham cottage her grandparents bought just before the Hurricane of 1938. "The Cape is a perfect antidote for the never-ending stimuli of living in New York," she says, "and vice versa."

Like so many Lasell alums, Donahue is excited about the College's renewed emphasis on the arts and performance (see pages 4-5). And she's been a generous supporter of her alma mater. "I had a great experience at Lasell, had excellent teachers and made good friends," she tells Leaves. "Giving something back now is only appropriate."

"I had a great experience at Lasell, had excellent teachers and made good friends. Giving something back now is only appropriate."

CLASS ACTS ON THE CHARLES

Ever wonder just how many proud Lasell alums actually work on campus? Leaves did, and we decided to count heads. The grand total: 32! On a sultry summer day, 11 of their number posed for a photo at Lasell's Stoller Boat House (the other 21 were either vacationing or otherwise unavailable). The range of College departments that can claim Lasell alums on staff is as impressive as the diverse scope of their individual talents.

First-Year Seminars

People, Politics, Pasta!

The 'Witch' in History and Pop Culture? Video Games?
Relationships that Hurt, Heal and Help?
Exploring Superheroes? Italian Food, Film and Culture?
The Art of Political Protest?

Not your father's college course listing, perhaps, but a roster of First-Year Seminars that speaks clearly to Lasell's Class of 2014.

This fall, for the first time, Lasell's popular First-Year Seminars (FYS) are required, three-credit courses, part of the College's Core Curriculum. During June orientation, students select a Seminar as one of their first-semester classes; similarly, each FYS professor has chosen a topic that he or she is passionate about but may not typically have the chance to teach.

"The small FYS class size (16) allows new students to get to know each other, their peer mentors and, most importantly, a faculty member quite well," Helena Santos, Lasell's dean of Advising and First-Year Programs, tells Leaves.

The list of FYS choices represents the diverse spectrum of academic interests and expertise that define Lasell, she adds. "The overarching goal is to support students' transition into our college community as independent, successful young adults responsible for their own personal and intellectual growth."

Lasell faculty members are bringing as much enthusiasm to their Seminars of choice as students.

Dennis Frey, associate professor of History and chair of the Department of Humanities, explains his International Studies Seminar takes an historical approach to looking at the American cultural landscape "from within and without," with a special emphasis on Lasell students "who have left their homelands to attend our American college."

Hortense Gerardo, assistant professor of Anthropology and Performing Arts, thinks it makes sense for her Custom, Costume and Culture Seminar to pair student interest in fashion with her expertise in cultural anthropology "and approach human behavior about physical attractiveness from a cross-cultural, ethnographic perspective."

Assistant Professor of Journalism Marie Campagna Franklin describes herself as "an Italian American who is passionate about all things Italian" and hopes to share that ardor with her Seminar in Italian Food, Film and Culture.

Assistant Professor of Communication Brian Wardyga chose to offer Video Games, "a hobby of mine—I've collected some 2000 games—since I picked up an Atari 2600 joystick in 1981."

Ten New Faculty on Board for 2010-11

Lasell College welcomes 10 new members to its faculty this academic year. "We are fortunate to have such a talented and diverse group joining the full-time faculty," Vice President for Academic Affairs James Ostrow tells Leaves. "They bring a wealth of professional and scholarly accomplishments as well as tremendous enthusiasm for teaching in a connected learning environment."

Here, a brief introduction to these new members of the Lasell community.

Sarah Abbott, assistant professor of Criminal Justice, is completing her PhD in Law, Policy and Society at Northeastern University. She received a Master in Criminal Justice degree from the University of Massachusetts, Lowell and a BA in Community Studies at Bradford and Ilkley College in England. Abbott has taught at Boston University and Mass Bay Community College, is currently director of Jail Diversion Programs for the Framingham Police Department and has presented and published widely on the treatment of mental illness in the justice system.

Serdar Arat, the Diane Heath Beever '49 Professor of Art, received both his MFA and MA degrees in Painting at The State University of New York, Albany, and holds a BS in Business Administration from Bogazici University, Istanbul, Turkey. Arat comes to Lasell from Concordia College in New York, where he was instrumental in creating new programming in the fine arts and served as faculty director and curator of the school's Osilas Gallery for 16 years. Arat's work has been widely reviewed internationally, including by The New York Times. Arat will assume a leadership role at Lasell, helping to build arts programming both within and beyond the curriculum, and serve as curator of the Wedeman Gallery in the Yamawaki Arts and Cultural Center (see pages 4-5).

Sarah Burrows will join the faculty in January as director of Internship Programs and assistant professor of Communication. Burrows holds an MS in Communication Management from Simmons College (where she was on the Internship Coordinator and Communication faculty for 10 years) and received a BFA from Alfred University. She will work closely with all academic departments, as well as Career Services, on placement and programming connected with the College's academic internships.

Kenneth Calhoun, assistant professor of Graphic Design and chair of the newly formed Art and Graphic Design Department, earned his MFA from Emerson College and BA from the University of California at San Diego. An assistant professor of Interactive Media at Elon University for the past three years, Calhoun previously was a visiting professor at Duke University, where he taught a course on Digital Storytelling. During the 1990s, Calhoun was a creative director, designer and writer/director in various organizations, working with Fortune 500, music and hospitality industry clients. His creative work includes documentary filmmaking, interactive design, music composition and fiction. An award-winning writer of short stories, he has been published in The Paris Review, New Stories from the South: The Year's Best 2010 and other journals (see pages 4-5).

Elizabeth Hartmann will join the faculty in January as assistant professor of Education.

Hartmann holds a PhD in Special Education in a joint doctoral program between University of California at Berkeley and San Francisco State University as well as an MEd in Special Education and a BA from Boston College. She is currently completing a Post-Doctoral fellowship at BC, in collaboration with the Center for Applied Special Technology (CAST) for leadership training in collaborative universal design for learning. Hartmann has published and consulted widely in the field of special education for diverse learners with complex support needs.

Young-Tae Kim, assistant professor of Sport Management, is completing his PhD in Sport Management at Florida State University and holds an MA in Journalism from the University of Missouri and a BA in Journalism and Mass Communication from Iowa State University. Kim has published articles in the area of sport sponsorship and has industry experience in the global sport agency field, including five years as the director in the sport marketing division of Hyundai Motor Company, where he oversaw marketing programs for the FIFA World Cup and European football championships.

LeLaina Romero, assistant professor of Psychology, is completing her PhD in Counseling Psychology at Teachers College, Columbia University, with a dissertation on Striving to Thrive: The Meanings, Processes, and Sources of Thriving among People of Color Living in Urban Poverty. Romero holds a BA in Psychology and Music, with a concentration in Women's Studies, from Rollins College. In addition to her work as a counseling psychologist, Romero brings experience as a community organizer and activist who has published and presented widely on participatory action research, feminist perspectives in psychology and community empowerment.

Erin Vicente, adjunct faculty in Communication for the past two years, joins Lasell's full-time faculty this fall as visiting assistant professor of Communication. Vicente, currently pursuing her EdD in Organizational Leadership and Communication at Northeastern University, holds an MA in Communication from Suffolk University and a BA in Business Administration from Queens University, North Carolina. In addition to teaching communication courses at several area colleges, Vicente has held senior account executive and financial planning positions at Viacom, CBS Radio, Boston and Fleet Boston Financial. Vicente has involved her Lasell students in service learning projects and will, in this academic year, direct the College's Speaking Across the Curriculum program.

Catharine Weiss joined Lasell in Fall 2009 as visiting assistant professor of Fashion and, following a national search, will continue on as assistant professor of Fashion. Weiss holds an MS in Management from Lesley University and a BS in International Studies from Marymount Manhattan College. She has worked in marketing management at Brahmin, Priscilla of Boston and the Museum of Fine Arts. Weiss is the lead faculty in new collaborations between Lasell and the Shandong University of Art and Design and Shandong Institute of Commerce and Technology in China.

Nadine Yehya will join the faculty in January as assistant professor of Integrated Marketing Communication, having completed a PhD in Public Relations at Purdue University where she also taught communication courses. She holds BS and MBA degrees from the American University of Beirut, Lebanon, and was marketing and development manager at Water & Environmental Sustainable Solutions (WESS) in that city. Yehya's dissertation focuses on health communications issues related to the federal WIC (Women, Infants and Children) nutrition program. She has published and presented papers on the health of Druze women as well as public relation strategies used by pharmaceutical companies to market products in Lebanon.

media matters

Lasell College continues to make local, regional and national news. Recent media appearances include:

- Donald Winslow, Lasell's late, beloved historian, trustee, son of former Lasell President Guy Winslow and author of Lasell: A History of the First Junior College for Women, was the focus of a Boston Globe feature article the day before a September 25 campus memorial service for him at the Yamawaki Arts and Cultural Center (see page 18).

- In Summer 2010, Assistant Professor of Communication Marie Franklin signed on as a columnist with the weekly Newton TAB, where she contributes op-ed commentaries.
- In September 2010, U.S. News and World Report named Lasell College one of the "Best Colleges for 2011." Lasell was ranked ninth for "Great Colleges for a Great Price" and tied for 25th for "Regional Colleges-North."
- Nara Paz '09 was profiled in the Boston Sunday Globe Magazine in August 2010 about her rising profile as a fashion designer.
- The Daily News Tribune covered an August 2010 visit by Massachusetts Governor Deval Patrick to Lasell Village, where he signed the Silver Alert System legislation into law. The Silver Alert System functions like the Amber Alert System to locate elderly people with Alzheimer's disease who go missing.

- In July 2010, Lasell was recognized in The Chronicle of Higher Education as one of the "Great Colleges to Work For 2010." The College was cited for its Professional/Career-Development Programs, Teaching Environment and Supervisor/Department-Chair Programs. The Newton TAB also picked up the story.

- In June 2010, Ashley Medeiros '13 won a competition to host two Totally Patriots segments this fall on WBZ-TV.
- Lasell was mentioned in Boston Magazine along with several other colleges who participated in the second annual Form to Fashion student design competition in late spring 2010.
- Renee Clarke '10 surfaced in the Daily News Tribune as the winner of the Form to Fashion contest in late spring 2010.
- In May 2010, The Lowell Sun showcased a collaborative Lasell/American Textile History Museum exhibition, Inspired Design: Lasell College at ATHM, featuring historic hats from the Museum's collection redesigned by Lasell Fashion students.

Tessa Le Roux

'Lights the Fire'

Sociology Professor Tessa Le Roux, director of the Donahue Institute for Values and Public Life and director of International Programs, relocated to the United States from her native South Africa in 1997. Le Roux, whose main scholarly work is in the field of gender and family studies, is widely published in the areas of gender role socialization, domestic work and migration and family ideology. Le Roux's lifelong passion for teaching, she says, "allows me to light the fire of social justice in the classroom and beyond." Leaves caught up with the busy academic over the summer, before her travels to Scandinavia.

- Social justice has always been critical to your worldview. How does your work as a Lasell educator help meet this important priority in your life? In the classroom I can help students develop an understanding of society and their own lives as social agents. The Donahue Institute represents sociology in action—it aims to raise awareness of social issues and to encourage activism. Our annual Donahue Distinguished Scholars (luminaries like the late historian Howard Zinn and journalist Liz Walker) challenge us to think critically about the world and reflect on powerful issues like immigration, race and sexuality.

- Your primary scholarly work is in the field of gender and family studies. What drew you to this?

In South Africa the apartheid system separated families, and migration had a huge impact on women's lives. I remain interested in the irony that women often feel compelled to leave their children behind in order to provide a better life for their families.

- Why is Lasell such a good professional fit for you? At a small institution like Lasell, it is possible to wear more than one hat without getting weighed down by bureaucracy.

"The Lasell community has supported me when I most needed it, providing me with the space to pursue my own academic interests."

- What books are currently on your night table? Too many and too little time! The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks by Rebecca Skloot, Strength in What Remains by Tracy Kidder, Island Beneath the Sea by Isabelle Allende and Made for Goodness by Desmond Tutu. I keep returning, in my reading and academic work, to the immigrant experience. In the meantime, the New Yorkers and New York Times Book Reviews are piling up.

- Deserted island films? My favorites tend to be haunting, often sad and deal with people making sense of unfortunate circumstances. Babette's Feast, Il Postino, Wit and Yesterday come to mind.

- Other passions? The outdoors—hiking, backpacking, camping, gardening. Sitting on the rocks watching the ocean is where I feel most at peace. I dream of retiring to a cottage in the woods.

- Why have you chosen to be a "Friend" of the Lasell Fund? In an ideal world, money would not play a role in education; the opportunity should be available to all. Given today's financial realities, though, I feel it's important for everyone who benefits from Lasell's mission, as I do, to support the College.

Tessa Le Roux: A passion for teaching.

LASELL GRAD PROGRAMS on Fast Track

Starting in January 2011, Lasell College will offer two new master of education degrees in Elementary Education and in Moderate Disabilities. The two new degrees are the latest additions to a growing graduate program at Lasell that now includes a master's degree in Sport Management, a master's in Communication and a master's degree in Management.

"The expansion and diversification of offerings at the graduate level is central to the growth of the College," says James Ostrow, vice-president for Academic Affairs for Lasell. "This new degree is significant in that it both serves this cause as well as provides new opportunities for enriching the quality of our teacher education programming."

According to Joan Dolamore, dean of Graduate and Professional Studies, a special graduate workshop for teachers entering the education master's program is in the works for the summer 2011, as well. "We are thrilled to offer these new degrees and to explore other additions to the graduate offerings," Dolamore tells Leaves.

Among the possible additions is a "fast-track" master's in Management, where students can finish a graduate program completely online in 18 months. The College hopes to launch this program in September 2011.

Two new concentrations to existing master's degrees are also planned in Management: Health Care Management and Entrepreneurship. And in Communication: Health Communication and Intercultural Communication.

Other areas of expansion may include a master's in Fashion and another in Strength and Conditioning.

Beyond this, the College is building on existing partnerships and seeking to partner with community colleges, non-profit organizations and corporations to meet the education needs of their diverse constituent groups.

Second Life

Jane Wan: From ER to IT

During her 25-year nursing career, Newton native Jane Bloomingburg Wan never imagined herself a techie. That is, until 2006, when she landed in Lasell's Information Technology department. From her Brennan Library ground-floor nook, the College's IT services manager fields questions, problems and requests from students, faculty and staff—a full plate by any measure, but a far cry from the trauma of hospital triage. Like many interesting professionals on the Lasell campus, Wan began her "first" life in a field unrelated to her current post. "Although they may appear quite different," she says, "my nursing and IT careers have similarities that I value. Both have challenged me to understand how to adapt the rather rigid rules of technology and protocols to the flexible needs of individuals."

While "the knack for the technical as well as the nurturing aspects of nursing was always there," she adds, "I was becoming disheartened at the business-like direction the health care field was heading."

Wan left the profession 13 years ago, when she and her husband, Nick, adopted a daughter, Lulu, from China to join their family (which includes 19-year-old Katie, a Lasell College freshman, and three rescue dogs). "Once I was home with Lulu, I got involved with the PTO at Katie's school and then at the local level," Wan continues. "I trained myself on simple computer skills, found I really enjoyed it and continued trying to solve issues on my own."

When not responding to the evolving technical needs of the Lasell community, Wan sings with the Lasell Jazz Ensemble, volunteers in animal rescue work and enjoys boating. As for being one of Lasell's go-to techies? "I find it refreshing to work with students," she says. "Their enthusiasm and curiosity for life and learning are energizing."

Anne Wangh A Doyenne Still On Point

Anne Wilson Wangh may well be the only Lasell Village resident to have danced in a high-kick line at the 1939 New York World's Fair.

The 92-year-old former ballerina and doyenne of the international dance community has strong opinions about life and art (she once called the legendary Vaslav Nijinsky "a genius and schizophrenic" in print) and finds the Village a perfect place to cultivate her sensibilities.

"Lasell Village offers residents a continuing intellectual challenge," Wangh tells Leaves. "The common denominator? We have varied life experiences to share and are still expanding our minds."

Wangh, the daughter of a New Jersey dentist and artist mother who became a block-print textile pioneer in New York's ready-to-wear industry, was weaned on the arts "with New York as my mecca from the time my mother saw Pavlova perform," she says.

...and at the Village.

On stage...

A classically-trained ballerina and trailblazer in modern dance and movement therapy/education who still returns to Manhattan periodically "for my dance fix," the University of Chicago alumna and onetime union organizer for AGVA (the American Guild of Variety Artists) was off stage for 14 years—raising three sons with her psychoanalyst husband on New York's vibrant Upper West Side.

She returned to the stage in 1956, went on to help establish the Dance Library of Israel ("I once performed at 21 kibbutzim in 28 days") and managed to amass a remarkable costume collection from years of international travel. In conversation, the sharp and still-agile nonagenarian can go from Renaissance to Baroque, Giselle to Sondheim, in a matter of moments without missing a beat—as the SRO crowd at the Lasell Village Ballroom knows firsthand from attending her popular lecture series on the history of dance.

"We're a bunch of like-minded people here," Wangh tells Leaves with a smile. "We think with our heads—and our hearts."

Remembering Donald J. Winslow: Keeper of History

December 21, 1911 - July 10, 2010

Lasell College said farewell to its beloved historian, former trustee and dear friend Don Winslow this summer and gathered for a formal memorial service, hosted by his wife Charlotte, on September 25, 2010 at the Yamawaki Arts and Cultural Center.

The longtime professor and chair of the Boston University English Department was also in many ways the keeper of Lasell's history. Winslow was a fixture on campus as a child—born in Karandon House when his father, Guy Winslow, was president—and eagerly shared his vivid memories of those early days. He never strayed too far from Lasell and entertained many from the College at his Maple Street home.

Here are some memories of Winslow gathered by Leaves:

Through the Years: Don Winslow in his office, with wife Charlotte and as a child at Lasell.

Thomas de Witt, president emeritus of Lasell:

"During my presidency, so focused on change, Don provided perspective and institutional memory—the English professor reminding the former historian that progress at Lasell also required a celebration of its unique past. Even in his declining years, his home was always open to a steady stream of students and faculty eager for his stories about Lasell's fascinating history."

Marilyn Negip, friend and librarian at Lasell:

"Some of my favorite memories of Don are the stories he told of his time in Dorset, England where, as a Thomas Hardy scholar, he hopped on his bicycle to knock on the door of Hardy's sister, Kate."

Geoffrey Austrian, friend and neighbor:

Austrian remembers Don's love of The Times Literary Supplement and how everyone in the neighborhood knew his of affection for the publication. "The Auburndale postmaster would sometimes personally deliver the London-based journal, when it came after regular delivery, to [Don's] house, knowing how important it was to him."

Judith Wittenberg, former graduate student and Lasell trustee:

"I was always so touched by how quickly and enthusiastically he would respond to my questions. He kept all his gradebooks from his courses. He was always so committed to his students and to scholarship."

Ann Silverstein, friend and Lasell Village resident:

Silverstein met Winslow by chance during a winter walk on campus 10 years ago and recalls "he was always reading and never ran out of things to say. His mind was as clear as a bell."

Rev. Dr. Thomas P. Sullivan

Open Doors, Open Arms

Friendly, disarming, conversational, Lasell's new director of the Center for Spiritual Life Rev. Dr. Thomas P. Sullivan not only has the spiritual and academic credentials to guide and counsel students, he's also extremely easy to talk to.

Centered: Sullivan in his Edwards Student Center digs.

So, it's no surprise that a recent conversation revealed his big Red Sox secret—which may make him even more charming in the eyes of Lasell Nation.

You see, Sullivan was the minister who married Red Sox owner John Henry and Linda Pizzuti in 2009.

"All my pals said 'Do it,'" says the initially hesitant Sullivan. "We held the pre-marital counseling on [Henry's] yacht."

But as exciting as it was to hob-nob with the rich and famous, Sullivan is more at home on a college campus connecting with students and staff.

At Babson College, Sullivan became interested in business ethics and designed a spiritual program from scratch. More recently, he created a similar program for Roger Williams University.

"I knew I liked a smaller school, and the breadth of students at Lasell was what I was looking for."

And when the chance came to bring his skills and experience to Lasell, Sullivan felt it was right.

Instead of reinventing the wheel, Sullivan, a Presbyterian minister, plans to partner with local houses of worship to offer students connections to members of their own faith groups. He also hopes to continue the Dessert and Discussion meetings that former Director

Barbara Asinger began and try out a few new programs, as well. Beyond this, Sullivan will teach several classes from World Religions to Applied Business Ethics and is interested in creating new service learning trips.

Sullivan, who has previously led student trips to African nations, believes that Lasell's academic disciplines would fit well with an expanded international experience.

In the interim, though, the avid soccer fan and singer plans to "be noticeable" on campus and leave his office door wide open to visitors.

Top 5 Reasons to see Tom

1. You are in crisis and need help.
2. You need a sounding board who isn't a guidance counselor.
3. You want to speak with a man, (if other counselors are women).
4. You need to talk about an assignment (but really want to discuss your girlfriend/boyfriend).
5. You want to talk about the World Cup with a fellow soccer enthusiast.

New Coaches Bring New Energy to Athletics

Carla Flaherty

A new era for the Lasell College women's basketball team begins this fall/winter season as Carla Flaherty starts in her new post as Head Women's Basketball Coach and Athletic Administrator.

The women's basketball program will be built around Flaherty's philosophy of "recruiting, scouting and overall commitment to scholar athletes."

Flaherty is excited and optimistic about the upcoming season and says, "The basketball court here at Lasell is 94-feet long and the rims are 10-feet high. This is the same as any other gym in the nation. In order to build a winning program we need to celebrate what we have. As far as I'm concerned, Lasell offers everything anyone could want or hope for. It is my intention to share that philosophy with as many prospective students as possible."

Before coming to Lasell, Flaherty was an assistant coach at Bates College, her alma mater, where she helped the team to a 104-53 record. As a student at Bates, Flaherty ranks eighth all-time in women's basketball scoring with 1,143 career points. She also received a graduate degree from Southern New Hampshire University in 2010.

Caitlin Connolly

Caitlin Connolly has joined the Lasell College coaching staff to head the Field Hockey and women's Lacrosse teams.

Connolly comes to Lasell after holding similar coaching positions during a three-year stint at Daniel Webster College. Prior to Daniel Webster, Connolly served as an assistant coach at Bryant University.

Connolly's background in field hockey has a distinguished history, having won CCC Rookie of the Year honors. Connolly holds the all-time record for career points scored (76) at Regis College and the record for most points in a season (26).

Connolly also brings with her assistant coach Adam Green from Daniel Webster College. Green will look to develop a high-powered offense for the Lasers.

Greg Harjula

For the Lasell Baseball team, 2011 marks a changing of the guard as three-year assistant coach Greg Harjula takes over the reins of the program.

Harjula enters his new position with a wealth of experience, having captained the Eastern Nazarene College baseball team throughout his senior season. In addition to his collegiate career, Harjula also plays for the South Boston Saints of the Yawkey Baseball League of Boston.

No stranger to Lasell College Baseball, Harjula served from 2008-09 under former head coach Jim Dolan.

Patrick Slight is the guy who—with no reservations—will tell you he dreams of being Boomer, the Lasell College mascot.

The problem is, Slight wouldn't have the time to do it.

Between being president of the Class of 2013, a peer mentor for a First-Year Seminar, a resident assistant in Rockwell Hall, a tour guide for the Admissions office, an orientation leader and a Cross Country record breaker—where would he find the time?

"It makes me happy to be here. I have been myself since I walked on this campus freshman year. I have a lot of pride wearing the school uniform colors and being class president," Slight says, his love for Lasell palpable.

And, unbelievably, the Franklin, MA native almost didn't wind up in Auburndale.

Slight is the student who knew in 7th grade he wanted to be a businessman and entrepreneur. He still holds onto his initial idea to create a community sports complex in the suburbs akin to the Reggie Lewis Center in Boston. He admits he had his career all planned out. Babson, with a strong business entrepreneurship program, was his first choice for college and he was accepted. It was in the bag until...he visited Lasell.

On a Roll: The record-breaker kicks it in.

"I came to recruitment night [for Cross Country] at Lasell, and everyone was so nice and welcoming. I left that next day and knew I was in trouble with the decision I thought I had already made," Slight tells Leaves.

He had the courage to question his assumptions and then change his mind. He arrived last year with guns blazing, and he's never looked back.

Recruited for his speed on a Cross Country course, Slight has not disappointed.

Last year as a freshman he broke Lasell's 1,000-meter record and the 4x8 distance medley record with other members of the Cross Country team.

"It's a competition with yourself," explains Slight, who was nicknamed "Chainsaw" during his successful high school running career.

Slight, who thrives on his internal drive and creativity, gained the moniker during a particularly important race as a senior.

During the last 200 meters of that race, his coach yelled that he needed to beat 14 runners for the team to advance to the state championships. So, Slight kicked it in.

"There is nothing that compares to when the gun goes off and everything just disappears," he says.

If Slight's next three years are anything like his first, no doubt more records will be broken.

Joan Weiler Arnow '49

'An Enriching and Benevolent Life'

Joan Weiler Arnow
December 17, 1929 - June 29, 2010

"Joan and Bob are pillars on which the success of Lasell rests," says President Michael B. Alexander. "With all of their achievements throughout the years," he adds, "they remained remarkably modest. Joan translated her beliefs into action and leaves a deep imprint on her alma mater. We are all challenged to carry on that legacy of compassion and generosity."

When Joan Marianne "Jackie" Weiler was a Chandler girl at Lasell in the late 1940s, she met a Massachusetts College of Pharmacy student named Robert Arnow who wooed her with "corned beef sandwiches left on the Chandler porch after lights out." The couple soon married and, over the next six decades, forged a life of devotion to Jewish cultural and civic ideals, to the arts, to Israel, to touching the lives of thousands of less fortunate...and to Lasell College.

With the death of Joan Weiler Arnow '49 in June 2010, the College lost one of its most steadfast and distinguished supporters.

"Hers was an enriching and benevolent life," recalls Lasell President Emeritus Thomas de Witt, who enjoyed a long friendship with the Arnows during his presidency. "Joan was an elegant, gracious and goodhearted person who partnered with her husband, Bob, to have a profound impact on Lasell's present and future," he continues. "One of the hallmarks of their philanthropy was its quiet, unassuming nature. Their recipe for making a philanthropic difference blended vision, commitment and constancy of generosity."

Imbued with a strong family tradition of giving back, Joan Arnow indeed forged a philanthropic path with personal meaning. Early on, she recognized the value of public service programs with financial support for the College's Center for Community-Based Learning. She became a trustee of the College, and her husband was an overseer and member of the Lasell Village board.

The couple established Lasell's first endowed academic chair, the Joan Weiler Arnow '49 Professorship (now held by biology Professor Stephen Sarikas) to recognize the value of dedicated faculty, and served as honorary co-chairs of the Lasell 150 Campaign. At her 50th Lasell reunion in 1999, Joan Arnow received the 1999 Lasell Medallion.

In addition to her husband of 61 years, Arnow leaves four children: David, Peter and Joshua Arnow and Ruth Arnow Stahl '80; a brother, Alan Weiler; 18 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

An update from Shirley Hanson Carter: "After Lasell, I went on to become a teacher. My husband and I are both retired and living in Duxbury, MA.

Up in Kittery, ME, Connie Hatch Herron, 91, still lives in her own home and keeps busy. Her children are spread out, and her grandson is in the Army.

After her husband died, Harriet Newcomb Stoughton moved to Givens Health Center in Asheville, NC. Harriet's son is a member of the Houston Symphony.

Eleanor Skinner Stoughton fondly remembers Lasell, her friends and Lake Willoughby, VT, where she spent many vacations. She is fighting cancer and taking radiation treatments.

During recent trips, Faye Wadhams Smith traveled to Cape Cod and North Carolina. Faye loves to travel and enjoys volunteer work.

"The Lasell College campus looks beautiful these days with the many additions," says Arlene Wishart Sylvester who lives just minutes away from the College. "Driving back and forth on Woodland Road brings back many fond memories." In September, Arlene attended the memorial service for Dr. Donald Winslow, former President Guy Winslow's son. Arlene recalls, "He lived in Auburndale, as do I, so I got to know him well. His children were classmates of my children."

From Norwood, MA, Dottie Holman Rich writes: "I was unable to attend reunion because I have osteoporosis and have fractured both hips and my back. I spend the winters in Indian Shores, FL and have traveled to many exciting places, including Alaska. These days I only travel with a walker, but I am still living in my own home. I get out to the senior center to play cards, bingo, participate in a poetry group and meet up with old friends. I have three beautiful grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. I have a full and good life."

48 Audrey Souther DesRoches reports: "I've moved to Edgewood Retirement Community in North Andover, MA. It is a lovely spot, but it has been an adjustment because I had been living in my own home for over 50 years. I am one of the younger and healthier residents and still walk and drive. I hope to stay that way." Audrey plans to see Joan Eaton Friborg in Maine.

Anne Carpenter Towle moved to a condo in Englewood, FL. She enjoys water aerobics, golf, cribbage and bridge.

In 2009, Jean Davies Stanley traveled to the Caribbean and Florida. She plays golf, makes creative Nantucket baskets, knits and boasts about her six grandchildren.

Mary Claire Dodge Davis is active in her church and has two grandchildren in college.

From Old Saybrook, CT, Jeanne Hackett Desmond sends an update: "I like being on the shore. It feels like I am on vacation year round. I had a full knee replacement, am involved with the Lady Elks and play bridge." Jeanne keeps up with Clara Silsby Lamperti.

Betty Kerrivan Davidson was sorry to miss Reunion 2010. She enjoys weekly visits with family, is active in her church and supports outreach groups.

From Sun City Center, FL, Nancy Nelson Weiss says, "I am now a great-grandmother. My passion is playing duplicate bridge. I also plan trips for the Audubon of Florida and enjoy exotic birds."

Shirley Reeves Fletcher is passionate about the environment and marine life and enjoys walks on the beach and her family.

Kathleen Ballard Heck says, "Nothing much to report. Our grandchildren are growing up. The oldest is 30 and the youngest is 10 years; two of them are engaged. Best wishes to all."

Who's Calling?

It could well be Antonio Nesbitt '13, one of Lasell's ace Phonathoners who is skilled (and successful) at asking alums to contribute to the all-important Lasell Fund. In addition to his Phonathon responsibilities, Nesbitt is a student orientation leader, intramural athlete (especially rugby) and, it is commonly held, all-around good guy. Here's a bit more about the personable West Hall sophomore...who just might have your number.

Hometown: Springfield, MA.

High School: Sabis International Charter School.

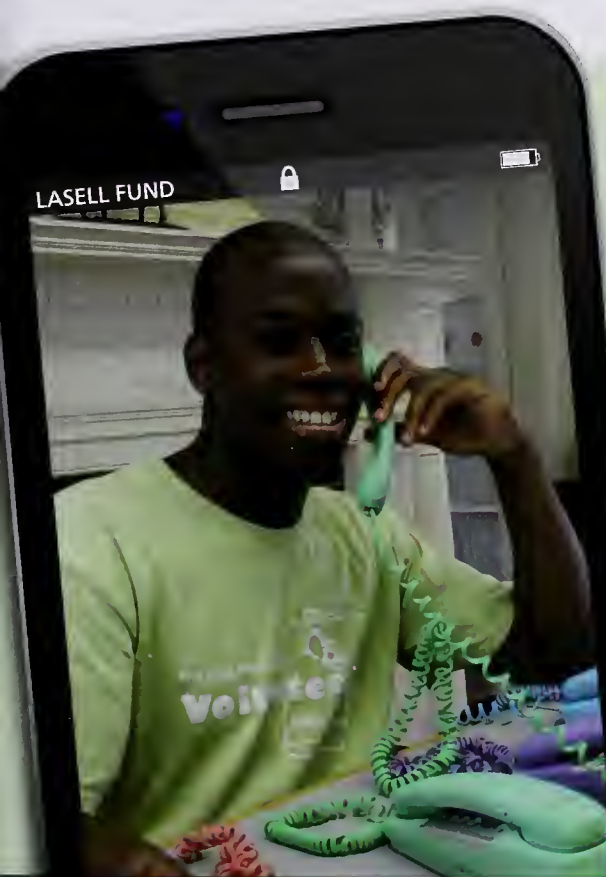

Major/Minor: Criminal Justice/Sociology.

Career Goal: To be an FBI field agent.

Passions: Music—anything but country!

Favorite thing about Lasell: It's a happy campus. I like the comfortable size, location and welcoming atmosphere.

Favorite thing about Phonathon: Chatting with alums of all ages helps me appreciate how connected so many people feel to the College. It's very cool.

I am not experienced on the computer but am learning. I have fond memories of playing bridge at Lasell. Now I am addicted to Bridge Doctor online."

60 Class Secretary Faith Bowker-Maloney 10 Village Lane Scituate, MA 02066-1231 781-545-1188 mlnyf@verizon.net

Twenty-eight 1960s alums returned to Auburndale to celebrate their 50th reunion in May. For those of you who did not attend, Cricket Bigelow George has this to say: "Yes, we have all gone on to other things in our lives, but Lasell was our first step. Have you had as many belly laughs as you did back then? Have you had anyone with whom you shared as many secrets? Have you had a meal as memorable as those at Jack and Marion's or as bad as those open-faced tomato and cheese sandwiches in the campus dining hall? Do you remember the rule about how freezing it had to be to wear pants to class when you trudged through the snow on a cold morning? It's amazing how young you can feel when you're back on campus, comparing memories with friends from those days. It may be 50 years since we were at Lasell, but it seems like just a few days once you identify that 'older' woman who sat next to you in English. Those of us who came back had a ball as we became 18 once more."

Faith Bowker-Maloney says, "I recently took my oldest granddaughter to Highpoint University in North Carolina. Two others are off to high school and one to middle school. I will be free again until the afternoons when the three are home again and homework time begins!"

Since 2005, Barbara Jacoby Adelstein has been living in Massachusetts to be near two of her four grandchildren. Barbara enjoys art and tai chi classes, Curves, swimming, walking and traveling the world with her husband, and adds, "Leya Oro Cohen and I are close friends again."

Cynthia Pierro Martin has been involved in community affairs and local theater and organized the focus group responsible for restoring and reopening an historic opera house in Barre, VT. She says, "I have two children and one grandchild, and I would love to hear from classmates from the class of '61."

64 Janet Ramsbotham Blake had this to say about her friendship with Jane Boyden Kropp who died in March. "Our friendship began in September 1962 when we met as assigned roommates in Woodland Hall. Jane was from Brattleboro, VT, and I was from Bristol, CT. We bonded immediately and have been friends since our days at Lasell. Our lives have intertwined for 48 years, and we both retired to California with our spouses and live just 1-3/4 hours away (depending on freeway traffic at a given time). If it had not been for our decision to attend Lasell, I would never have had the good fortune to have this kind and gentle person in my life. She will always be an important part of me."

In 2009, Nancy Zigo Brenner retired after a 35-year sales career in the contract furniture industry. She has one son who teaches high-school biology.

"I came back to visit Lasell in 2000. What a change!" Nancy writes, adding, "In the area of romance, I have been in a wonderful, loving relationship for more than 15 years."

In early September, Susan Constantine "Connie" Buonocore and her husband who live in North Carolina enjoyed a trip to New York and Massachusetts. Some of the highlights included a tour of the Norman Rockwell Museum, a day at the Brimfield Antique Festival, a thrilling dune ride along the National Seashore in Provincetown, a visit to Nantucket. Susan nostalgically says, "I was grateful for the cool weather; the crisp, early fall mornings and being 'home' in New England for awhile."

"Time sure flies when you are having fun," writes Pam Hill Costa. "I retired in November 2003. I have three grandchildren, and what a joy it is to take care of them two days a week." I also keep busy with quilting, knitting and traveling. My husband and I spend three winter months in Ormond Beach, FL. I am an official whale watcher there, keeping track of the endangered right whales as they swim by with their new babies. What are the rest of you Converse girls doing?"

Out of Africa: Carol Schumacher "Shu" Dougherty '61 (right) joined Laine Butler Ryan '61 (left) on a travel-agent familiarization trip to South Africa. Laine says, "Africa is not a destination but a life-changing experience. Once you have been there, you dream of going back." Shu is wasting no time. She writes that if anyone would like to keep in touch, especially anyone from Karandon House, please email her at marthab@pvt-inc.com.

Stephanie Pendleton was the single alum who joined the recent alumni trip to Provence which she describes as "painted landscapes dotted with vineyards, hill towns and fields of bright red poppies. The tour was based in Cezanne's hometown, a city of fountains, sidewalk cafes, tree-lined boulevards and shops filled with lavender, herbs, fresh flowers, produce, and colorful fabrics. Almost every day began with an informative lecture. Our weather was warm and dry." Stephanie is already planning her next trip.

In April, Jeanne Johnsen, traveled to England with her church group. Here's her story: "We saw many cathedrals, and the weather was warm and sunny. On our last day, we arrived at Heathrow Airport only to find that it had just closed." The Icelandic volcano played havoc with Jeanne's plans to return home. "Our group quickly found lodging for the eight extra nights of our extended vacation. It was a trip to remember." Jeanne is the director of support services in the Institutional Advancement Office at Lasell College.

73 Nina Lentini and her growing career in print journalism netted feature story placement recently in The New York Times. In 2007, Nina became editor of Marketing Daily, a five-day-a-week online trade newsletter. Then Marketing Daily's Manhattan-based parent company approached her to start an e-newsletter aimed at the Hispanic population. Soon after, Nina was asked to start other weeklies. In 18 months, Nina was responsible for one daily newsletter and 10 weeklies. Her day begins at 7:30 am, and she works on weekend mornings and most holidays. Nina is not complaining. "This is just the new reality," she says.

In October, Janet Lockwood Kawada gave a gallery talk at the Kingston Gallery, Boston. Check out her website: janetkawada.com.

74 "Hi, Class of 1974. Just wanted to say hello and see how everyone was doing. I have a wonderful husband and two wonderful children. We have lived in the Midwest for the past several years. Hope all is well," writes Janet Mester Hay.

35th Reunion!

For more information, contact your reunion coordinator Allison Hague Sargent or visit the website:

www.lasell.edu/reunion

Allison Hague Sargent, president of Allison Sargent Events of Montclair, NJ, was recently named one of New Jersey's 2010 Best 50 Women in Business. An independent panel of judges selected the top 50 candidates based on dedication to business growth, professional and personal accomplishments, community involvement and advocacy for women. "I am thrilled to be included in this distinguished group," says Allison. "In my 15 years in business, I have made reaching out as much of a priority as reaching up; to be recognized for both my success and my commitment to giving back is a very special honor."

77 The Alumni Office thanks Terri

Canavan Loe for representing Lasell College at the presidential inauguration at Baylor University in Waco, TX. According to Terri there were over 300 educational institutions represented in the procession. Terri says, "Thank you again for the opportunity to represent Lasell. It was even more meaningful to me because I worked for Baylor Hospital in Dallas in the early 1980s after graduating with a nursing degree."

An update from Ruth Earley Barnett: "I retired in 1999 and have had some wonderful experiences throughout my career as a nurse. I am currently the parish nurse at a United Methodist Church.

In 2008 I was chosen Ms. Senior Virginia of America. Whoopi!"

79 Our sincere condolences to Pam Henderson Pagliaro on the death of her mom, Patricia Taylor Henderson '40, in July.

Nine Sarahs, Eight Michaels

A statistical look at the 555 first-year and transfer students who entered Lasell College this fall reveals that the Class of 2014:

- Hails from 15 states, one US territory (Guam) and three foreign countries
- Massachusetts (280), Connecticut (52) and New York (34) are the states most represented
- Is 65% female and 35% male
- Self-identifies as 19.6% people of color
- Includes nine Sarahs, eight Michaels and 324 other unique names
- August 30 and December 16 are the most common birthdays
- In high school, 53 were members of the National Honor Society
- 21 worked on their high school newspapers
- 74 served in student government
- 30 sang in a choral group or choir, and
- 226 participated in community service activities

The Class of 2014 pushes the College's undergraduate enrollment above 1600, with some 200 students enrolled in Lasell's graduate programs.

Thirty Years Later:

In the Berkshires: Five Class of '80 alums who are turning 50 this year get together regularly, most recently at The Red Lion Inn in Stockbridge, MA. Photographer Barbara Brearton Smith snapped lifelong friends (L to R) Julie Folan Lyver, Beth Porcaro Grady, Marcia Stascavage Notarangelo, Patty Bryson.

83 Caroline Knoener-Skowronek participated in the Susan G. Komen 3-Day Walk for the Cure, tallying 60 mile. Caroline writes: "In February 2009 I was diagnosed with breast cancer. I was fortunate to have had it detected early, and I can now say I am cancer free. During the walk, I met, walked and socialized with survivors, friends and family members. On the first day, I met three Lasell alums who were walking in honor of one of their mothers, a breast cancer survivor. We all had lunch on the Lasell athletic field. On the second day, I met up with Liz Kasa '03 who had waited two hours at a cheering station to see me. The three days of walking were hard, but the support from people who came out to cheer us on was a great pick-me-up. My current goal is to put my energies into working to help to defeat cancer."

84 Our sincere condolences to Tracey Connor Young on the death of her father in May.

Rachel Craft's experience with the AmeriCorps Volunteers in Apopka, FL has been so positive that she signed up for another year. She reports: "Florida is different from New England, but it is a nice change. Through this program I have been able to teach dance, start a chorus, learn about working at a non-profit and mentor children from different backgrounds. I am using a lot of the knowledge learned from classes at Lasell."

Chris Johnson, a personal trainer, realized it was hard for people to find advice, events and information on their favorite fitness hobbies and sports from a personal trainer. With that consumer need in place, Chris created lamoptimal.com where people can share information and interact with a fitness instructor. The site allows visitors to create a profile, upload videos, chat live with an instant message feature and get discounts on 50 products. Check it out!

Dresses from Crystal Noe's fashion collection were featured in Elias Polcheira's photography portfolio that was sent out to 100 companies including advertising agencies and local boutiques.

Fashion designer Nara Paz was a judge for the Boston Symphony Orchestra's Project Tchaikovsky. For the contest, fashion students designed evening wear inspired by the music of Tchaikovsky. Two Lasell students, Fallon Coster '11 and Melissa Higgins '10, were finalists.

Living in Watertown, MA with roommate Hayley Walter, Katelyn Arn is a merchandising assistant in the lingerie department at TJX Companies, Inc.

Hospitality and Event Management major Scott Bacon is working the front desk at Courtyard by Marriott in New Haven. He says, "It is a good foot in the door."

Who Knew? Jean Petrino '97, MSM '09 had an unusual twist to her wedding story. "For the last 10 years I have been hosting Lasell friends at a Thanksgiving dinner. My fiancé Michael Muldowney and I decided that Thanksgiving Day 2009 was the day we wanted to get married. Our guests showed up for dinner as usual. Before dessert, a justice of the peace appeared and married us." Surprised guests included Lasell alums Marsha Greenstein '96, Patti Beck Bishop '97, Rayna Cascella Bouchard '99 and Lindsay Higgins Santolucito '99.

Fenway Faithful: On a perfect-weather day in August, Cathy Correia '03 and Liz Kasa '03 were among the 50 alumni at a Boston Red Sox/Detroit Tigers game. After a nail-biting ninth inning, the Sox pulled through with a win.

Currently, Kelly Barden is a student at Massachusetts School of Law. "In my spare time," she says, "I help out with the Lasell softball team." In August, Kelly went to Country Fest with Heather Lynch, Meghan McDonough and Nikki Slader.

Renee Clarke works as a designer assistant for Dahlia's, a boutique in Newton Centre, and does alterations at Alegria Bridal in Belmont. In October, she and Michael Ansaldi headed to Florida for a vacation.

Lindsey Stewart is an accounts payable coordinator for Watermark. She is also studying for the CPA exam.

LASELL MEDALLION: CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

The tradition of the Lasell Medallion was established in 1968 by then-president Dr. Vincent DeBaun. The Medallion was created to honor outstanding members of the College community. The bronze Medallion award "may be made to any member of the Lasell family who, by virtue of distinguished service to the College or to society at large, has brought added honor to the name of Lasell." The 2010 Lasell Medallion recipients were Joan Conradi McLaughlin '59 and Nancy Burrows Putnam '50.

To nominate someone for the 2011 Medallion, to be presented at the Reunion Convocation on Saturday, June 4, 2011, contact Director of Alumni Relations C. Chad Argotsinger at cargotsinger@lasell.edu or 617-243-2139.

HOLIDAY

Must Haves

The Scoop from Lasell Alums

Looking for the perfect gift for this holiday season?

Leaves thought it would be fun to ask some talented and enterprising alums about their 2010 holiday faves (and get student illustrator Kristin Liberacki '11 to create some whimsical graphics). Enjoy!

Headbands: Miraculous Decoy

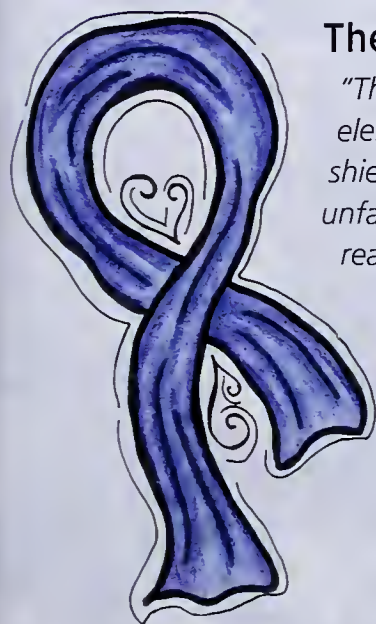

Headbands are everywhere! I consider them a genre of hair extensions, though more enhancing, colorful and comfortable. You can find a headband informal, plain or adorned with feathers, gems or flowers, at prices reasonable to extravagant.

Michele Poirier Gorman '60, Educational Consultant, West Hartford, CT

The Jersey Scarf: Cozy and Cool

"This may be one of the most essential elements for the fall/winter season. It's a shield, yes, but it can also spruce up the most unfashionable men's outfit. Jersey scarves are really big right now with lots of texture; they are cozy and cool."

Junior Director's Chair: Personal and Practical

"When my son was born 28 years ago, I received an adorable junior director's chair with his name on it. It was lightweight, folded, doubled as a booster seat and always provided him with just the right size support for his little bottom. It's the perfect baby or young child gift and can be used until age four."

Marguerite (Peggy) Boyd Greene '30

A longtime member of The Heritage Society, Marguerite (Peggy) Boyd Greene '30 died on May 24, 2010, just a few months short of her 100th birthday, in Delray Beach, Florida. For many years, Greene divided her time between her native Gloversville, NY and Delray Beach, and for the last several years she resided at Abbey Delray South in Delray Beach. "Mother was a fabulous lady with tremendous grace, style and wit which she exhibited right to the end," her daughter, Sarah Peck of Wellington, FL, tells Leaves. "She treasured her lifelong and close relationship with Lasell." Greene is also survived by a son, Douglas Green of Vancouver, Washington, as well as several grandchildren and great-grandchildren. A loyal and generous Lasell alumna, Greene was honored on her 90th birthday in 2000 with the naming of a staircase alcove in her former undergraduate residence, Gardner House.

Edward Lasell Leadership Circle

Leadership Annual Giving Honor Roll

Lasell Fund donors at leadership levels of $1,000 or more honor Edward Lasell's legacy of providing a progressive and professionally focused education to motivated young people. We are profoundly thankful to the members of the Edward Lasell Leadership Circle for their deep commitment and wonderful investment in Lasell College. Members of the Edward Lasell Leadership Circle share a link with the early investors in Lasell, continuing a strong tradition of philanthropy and connecting our notable past to our remarkable present. Their generosity allows the College to provide financial aid to an increasing number of students while also providing library resources, strengthening athletic programs and enhancing academics through the ability to add members of the faculty and increase course offerings. This leadership and philanthropy make a significant difference in the education, and lives, of Lasell's students. We are deeply grateful.

Alumni Donors

More than 2,000 alumni contributed to the success of Lasell College in 2009-2010. Gifts to the Lasell Fund (see page 39) provided the resources that enable our students and faculty to thrive in the classroom, on the playing field and in service to the community. Other gifts, including those to the Bridge to the Future Campaign (see page 43), helped strengthen Lasell's endowment and program support and make possible much-needed additional space for faculty and students, particularly within the creative and applied arts.

Bridge to the Future Fundraising Initiative

Bridge to the Future is a three-year fundraising initiative launched in fiscal year 2010 to provide for Lasell's facility and operating needs, which have resulted from the College's tremendous growth in recent years. Its three core objectives are to raise $5 million dollars to build the new Donahue Center for Creative and Applied Arts (below) and to support other current building projects underway; to raise $3 million dollars for Lasell's endowment (primarily through planned gifts); and to raise at least $2 million in gifts over the three-year period in support of the Lasell Fund.

The following list includes those generous donors who have made special gifts and pledges, in addition to their Lasell Fund donations, in support of the Bridge to the Future Fundraising Initiative.

The Heritage Society

As alumni and friends learn about the benefits of planned giving at Lasell College, many are choosing to provide special support for Lasell's future by establishing a life income gift or bequest. The Heritage Society honors these individuals who champion the next generation of students at Lasell. We are pleased to pay tribute to the following members of the Heritage Society (as of summer 2010):

Remembering with Gratitude

A large portion of our endowment growth has come through the generosity of these honored alumni and friends who made provisions for Lasell in their estate plans and through life-income gifts, which have now been received by the College. We are forever grateful to these cherished individuals whose legacies live on through our current and future students.

Red Sox Fanatic and Lasell Fan

Lisa Simmons '80

Year graduated: 1980.

Major: Retail Management/Merchandising.

Residence: Gardner House, third floor, both years!

Current occupation: Small business owner—petsitting and dog walking.

Dream job: As much as I would love to be a Fenway Park vendor, I actually would like to open my own yarn and knitting shop.

Favorite Lasell memory: The proximity to the city while still being in the suburbs, and being able to take advantage of Boston's city life... museums, clubs and history.

Why do you give back/stay involved with Lasell? When I returned for my 25th reunion, I realized that the years I spent at Lasell were where I did most of my growing as an individual. Since then, I have become involved in Lasell activities and have regularly given back to the College. I would like to see more of my classmates join me at alumni events and our reunions.

Lasell College Green Campus Initiative—
Single-stream recycling allows students, faculty and staff to recycle most of their waste, all within one bin! In the first three months of single-stream recycling on campus, four tons of waste were saved from the landfill.
